

Langrish School E-Safety Agreement

At Langrish we are committed to the use of computer technologies and recognise the Internet as a valuable tool for learners of all ages. However, we also acknowledge that computers, mobile devices and the Internet do have the potential for inappropriate use and access to undesirable material from which we have a duty of care to protect our pupils.

In order to fulfil that duty of care, Langrish School will:

- Use a filtered Internet service to prevent access to sites containing undesirable material.
- Ensure that all internet access within the school is supervised by an adult.
- Continue to maintain a high standard of staff safeguarding training, including e-safety.
- Educate our pupils - using age-appropriate lessons, assemblies and resources - about the responsible use of technology, and how to deal with some of the threats, dangers and challenges they may face in the digital world.

Squirrels' Internet Safety Charter

We talked about ways in which we use the internet at home, from watching movies on Netflix or YouTube to saying hello to friends and family who might live a long way away.

We discussed how to stay safe whenever we're online and came up with some important rules to follow both at home and in school:

- 1) Always have an adult with us whenever we use the Internet or enabled devices and always ask their permission first.
- 2) Never click on or download anything we're not sure of.
- 3) Never share private information about ourselves over the Internet, such as your name, what school you go to or where you live.
- 4) Only ever talk to people that we know over the Internet, never to strangers.
- 5) Always tell an adult if we see, read or hear anything on the Internet that we do not like.
